Q3 2019 Industry Highlights

- Aluminium demand has lost momentum in most global markets: world-market consumption almost flat, first decline since 2009, due to weak economic conditions, slow global manufacturing and increased use of scrap metal. A slowdown in the US market has led to a drop of 3% YoY in aluminium consumption, while Europe consumption was down by 1% YoY owing to lower vehicle demand. Consumption in MENA rose by 4% YoY driven by infrastructure spending in UAE and Saudi Arabia.
- World production inched down by 1% YoY despite the supply-growth in North American market. Asian supply was down by 1% YoY supported by Chinese supply disruptions [a drop of 3% YoY], while production in North America continued to gain momentum post 2018 lacklustre (+7% YoY supported by smelters' restarts).
- World market in deficit with China (-467 Kt) & (-61 Kt) without China.

"Despite downbeat economic and market sentiments, we were able to lock-in positive profitability in Q3 thanks to the progressive ramp-up of Line 6.

We look positively into the future as we stand at the threshold of becoming the world's largest aluminium smelter with Line 6 fully going on-stream soon."

Alba's Acting Chief Executive Officer, Ali Al Baqali added:

"2019, no doubt, has been a difficult year for the aluminium market due to depressed LME prices and overall industry outlook. However, we aim to finish 2019 strong by achieving for the first-time a production of 1.35 million metric tonnes and exceeding 15 million working-hours without LTI – another first in Alba's history."
